THE DREYFUS CASE IN HAND.

Believed That Court of Cassation Will Decide in Favor of Revision.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—It is believed that the court of cassation will take up the Dreyfus case next week, and the general impression is that the decision will be in favor of revision.

The court has obtained documents concerning Comte Esterhazy, the late Lieutenant Colonel Henry and Mme. Pays and their mutual relations. It will demand all the documents bearing on the case and call witnesses, including Lieutenant Colonel Picquart.

M. Cavaignac, the former minister for war, is credited with the intention when parliament reassembles of calling upon the government to take the question of Dreyfus revision out of the hands of the court of cassation, but it is believed that no precedent exists for such interference.

The Solr says:

"M. Faure will send a message to the chamber of deputies regarding the Dreyfus case when parliament reassembles, and it is predicted by some that he will appeal for a reconciliation of the factions now disturbing the country's tranquility."

AFTER THE INDIANS.

Commissioner Jones Has Gone to Get the Men Wanted.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—A Walker (Minn.) special to The Dispatch says:

"Indian Commissioner Jones and John Bassett, an interpreter, left here yesterday on the steamer Flora for Black Duck point to bring in the Indians who promised to surrender."

"In the letter to General Bacon it was stated that the chiefs and head men of the Pillager band of Chippewas desired to express to him personally their respect for him and their gratitude for his forbearance toward them in their trouble."

"Commissioner Jones made a short speech, in which he said that he wanted to announce publicly that it was due to General Bacon in the battle and his subsequent conduct of affairs here that a peaceful solution of the trouble with the Indians was brought about promptly and without the delay usual in former Indian disturbances. In his opinion the general had averted a bloody war in this state."

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Harold Frederic, the novelist and newspaper correspondent, died at Henley, England.

The French physician who visited the emperor of China found him weak, but in no immediate danger.

Chief Engineer Philip, U. S. N., retired, died at Saratoga. A naval funeral will be held in Washington.

The Alaska steamer Eriksen was reported wrecked 30 miles from Fort Wrangel, the passengers being safe.

General H. W. Lawton of the military department of eastern Cuba has arrived in New York on a 60 days' leave of absence.

The president rode in the Chicago peace parade in the rain yesterday morning, afterward reviewing the 30,000 men in line.

Naval Movements.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The gunboat Wilmington, Commander Chapman C. Dodd, left here yesterday for Charleston, where she is to take part in a peace jubilee celebration. The United States dispatch boat Dolphin also sailed yesterday. She is bound for Philadelphia via Provincetown. She is expected to take part in the peace jubilee exercises at the Quaker City.

Registration at Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20.—The total registration of Harvard university, as shown by the directory, amounts this year to 4,197, including 423 officers of instruction and 3,774 students. Besides this number there are 30 students absent. The figures show a gain of 47 students over last year and the largest total in the history of the university.

New Undersecretary For War.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—George Wyndham, Conservative member of parliament for Dover, has been appointed undersecretary for war in succession to the Right Hon. William St. John Brodrick, recently appointed undersecretary of state for foreign affairs in succession to Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the new viceroy of India.

McIntyre's Sentence Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Secretary Long has approved the findings of the court which tried and sentenced Captain J. P. McIntyre to dismissal from the naval service for criticisms he made of the conduct of Rear Admiral Sampson and Captain R. D. Evans.

Warships Out of Commission.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The Hannibal and Hornet were placed out of commission at Norfolk Tuesday, and the monitors Puritan and Terror were laid up in the reserve at the same place yesterday.

A JUBILEE BANQUET

Chicago's Dinner to President McKinley.

TWELVE HUNDRED GUESTS AT TABLE

The President Responds to the Toast "Our Country" and Adial Stevenson to "The President"—Shafter and Miles to "The Army."

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—For the third time since the commencement of the jubilee festivities were shifted last night to the interior of the Auditorium, and the third and last scene to be enacted within the great hall was the most brilliant, beautiful and successful of them all. It was the great national jubilee peace banquet tendered to the president of the United States and other distinguished guests by the citizens of Chicago. No similar event ever held within the Auditorium surpassed in brilliancy and simple elegance the banquet last night. No similar event ever held there was more successfully managed or brought to a more triumphant conclusion.

Twelve hundred guests, among them men prominent in all branches of business, science, art, men of brilliant record upon the sea and men famed for deeds of arms done on shore, were standing by their chairs when a tap from the gavel of Franklin MacVeagh, the presiding officer, announced the approach of Mr. McKinley. The orchestra struck up "Hail to the Chief," and as the strains of the old march were heard the president, attended by the jubilee reception committee, came down the center aisle, bowing right and left in acknowledgment of the applause his presence evoked.

The table of the president was placed across the hall, the nine reserved for the distinguished guests being placed at the side and directly in front of that at which the president was seated. The remainder of the tables were arranged lengthwise of the hall.

Mr. McKinley was seated at the right hand of Toastmaster MacVeagh, the others at the presidential table being Secretary Gage, Secretary Wilson, Secretary Bliss, Archbishop Ireland, Clark Howell, General Miles, Governor Tanner, Dr. Frank Crane, ex-Vice President Stevenson, Admiral Brown, Captain Sigbee, Judge Emory Speer, General Shafter, Samuel Gompers, President Angell of Michigan university and President Northrop of the University of Minnesota.

At 10 o'clock the preliminary portion of the banquet having been disposed of, Mr. MacVeagh introduced President McKinley, announcing that he would reply to the toast, "Our Country."

It was several minutes before the cheering had subsided sufficiently to allow the president's voice to be heard, and when he was afforded an opportunity, he made the following address, his utterances being greeted with most vociferous applause:

"It affords me gratification to meet the people of the city of Chicago and to participate with them in this patriotic celebration. Upon the suspension of hostilities of a foreign war, the first in our history for over half a century, we have met in a spirit of peace, profoundly grateful for the glorious advancement already made and earnestly wishing in the final termination to realize an equally glorious fulfillment."

"With no feeling of exultation, but with profound thankfulness, we contemplate the events of the past five months. They have been too serious to admit of boasting or vain glorification. They have been so full of responsibilities, immediate and prospective, as to admonish the soberest judgment and counsel the most conservative action. This is not the time to fire the imagination, but rather to discover in calm reason the way to truth and justice and right, and when discovered to follow it with fidelity and courage, without fear, hesitation or weakness."

"The war has put upon the nation grave responsibilities. Their extent was not anticipated and could not have been well foreseen. We cannot avoid the serious questions which have been brought home to us by the achievements of our arms on land and sea. We are bound in conscience to keep and perform the covenants which the war has solemnly sealed with mankind. Accepting war for humanity's sake, we must accept all obligations which the war in duty and honor imposed upon us. The splendid victories we have achieved would be our eternal shame and not our everlasting glory if they led to the weakening of our original lofty purpose or to the desertion of the immortal principles on which the government was founded and in accordance with whose ennobling spirit it has ever since been faithfully administered."

"The war with Spain was undertaken not that the United States should increase its territory, but that the oppression at our very doors should be stopped. This noble sentiment must continue to animate us and we must give to the world the full demonstration of our purpose."

"Duty determines destiny. Destiny which results from duty performed may bring anxiety and perils, but never failure and dishonor. Pursuing duty may not always lead by smooth paths. Another course may look easier and more attractive, but pursuing duty for duty's sake is always sure and safe and honorable."

"It is not within the power of man to foretell the future and to solve ungrudgingly its mighty problems. Almight God has his plans and methods for human progress, and not infrequently they are shrouded for a time in mystery. We can only see the end of the way and follow it with faith and courage."

did not start out to free the waves, out to save the Union. The war with Spain was not of our seeking, and some of its consequences may not be to our liking. Our vision is often defective. Short sightedness is a common malady, but the closer we get to things or they get to us the clearer our vision and the less obscure our duty. Patriotism must be faithful as well as fervent; statesmanship must be wise as well as fearless—not the statesmanship which will command the applause of the hour, but the judgment of posterity.

"The progress of a nation can alone prevent degeneration. There must be new life and purpose or there will be weakness and decay. There must be broadening of thought as well as broadening of trade. Territorial expansion is not alone and always necessary to national advancement. There must be a constant movement toward a higher and nobler civilization, a civilization that shall make its conquests without resort to war and achieve its greatest victories pursuing the arts of peace. If our present situation duty and duty alone should prescribe the boundary of our responsibilities and the scope of our undertakings."

"The final determination of our purpose awaits the action of the eminent men who are charged by the executive with the making of the treaty of peace and that of the senate of the United States, which by our constitution must ratify and confirm it. We all hope and pray that the confirmation of peace will be as just and as humane as the conduct and consummation of the war. When the work of the treaty makers is done, the work of the treaty makers will begin. The one will settle the extent of our responsibilities; the other must provide the legislation to meet them. The army and navy have nobly and heroically performed their part. May God give the executive and congress wisdom to perform theirs."

The men of the south who have delivered addresses during the jubilee have won golden opinions. The speech of Judge Speer of Georgia at the opening meeting Tuesday was a revelation to those who had never heard him, and the address of Clark Howell of Atlanta, who responded to the sentiment, "Our Reunited Country—North and South," was in all respects equal to that of those who had preceded him. It caught the audience and caught them hard.

"The President" was the next toast on the programme, and to that ex-Vice President Stevenson replied. Mr. Stevenson's address, which was continuously interrupted by applause, was in the following words:

"Not Chicago alone, but Illinois, the state that gave the immortal Lincoln to the presidency and to the ages, bids you welcome, Mr. President."

"The incumbent of this great office holds with unchallenged title the most exalted station known to men. Monarchs rule by hereditary right or hold high place only by force of arms. The elevation of a citizen to the presidency of the United States is the deliberate act under the forms of law of a sovereign people. As an aspirant he may have been the choice only of a political party; as the incumbent of the great office he is the representative of all the people, the president of all the people. It augurs well for the future of the republic when the American people magnify this office; when they honor as now the president who has so ably upheld its dignity, so worthily met its solemn responsibilities, so patriotically discharged its exacting and imperative duties."

"It is well that to the people was intrusted the sovereign power of choosing their chief magistrate. It is our glory in the retrospect of more than a century that none other than patriots—statesmen well equipped for the discharge of its tireless duties—have ever been chosen to the presidency. May we not believe that the past is the earnest of the future, and that during the rolling years and centuries the incumbents of the great office, the chosen successors of Washington and of Lincoln, in the near and in the remote future, will prove the guardians and defenders of the constitution, the guardians and defenders of the rights of all the people."

"However it may have been in the past, the United States emerges from the conflict with Spain a united people. Sectional lines are obliterated. Henceforth for all time we present to the foreign foe an unbroken front."

"No less important is the fact that the United States of America today as never before commands the respect and admiration of the world. No foreign coalition however formidable can excite our serious apprehension or alarm. For all this all honor to our brave soldiers and sailors, all honor to the hands and hearts of America's women."

"Thankful to God for all he has vouchsafed to us in the past and with the prayer that henceforth peace shall be the precious birth of nations, we await the dawn of the new century and turn our faces hopefully, confidently, to the future."

Chairman MacVeagh paid an eloquent tribute to the American soldier as he called upon the two men most prominent in the late war to reply to the toast, "The Army."

The toast was drunk amid wild enthusiasm, cheer after cheer, raising through the hall as General Miles rose to speak of the glorious deeds of the American soldier and volunteer. It is allusion to the fact that the American fighting man was armed with another loyal sentiment and the tramping waving of national and handkerchiefs.

The welcome extended to General Shafter, who followed the address of General Miles with another speech of the same subject was greeted with no less enthusiasm than that accorded to his superior.

"The Navy" was the next toast, and Captain Charles D. Spence, second in command of the fleet, responded with a speech in favor of the usefulness and necessity of a large and well equipped navy. "The time may come," the speaker said, "when there will be no longer need for independence. Abraham Lincoln that day. I am glad that the issue of the Maine was not used as a cause of war. I trust that we will all remember the Maine, but in the right sense and in the right way—never for revenge."

FIGHT AT MANILA?

Reported in Madrid That Dewey Whipped Insurgent Navy.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times says: "Captain Aunon, the minister of marine, has received a dispatch from Manila announcing a naval engagement between the Americans and the rebels in consequence of Admiral Dewey's adding the latter to fly the rebel flag from their ships. The dispatch adds that there were losses on both sides, but that the Americans captured the rebel ships. The scene of the engagement is not stated, but it is supposed to have been Manila bay."

No News in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—As far as could be ascertained no information regarding the reported naval engagement has been received at the navy department, nor has General Otis, at Manila, made any reference to it in any communications he may have made to the war department. The dispatch created considerable interest in Washington.

Recently the newspapers contained a statement that Admiral Dewey had dispatched one or two of his ships to another part of the Philippine group on a mission of some importance, and the suggestion is made unofficially that it may have been these vessels which have been engaged in combat with the insurgents.

PIO PILAR TO WITHDRAW.

Insurgent Leader Will Evacuate Paco, Suburb of Manila.

MANILA, Oct. 20.—The insurgent general, Pio Pilar, has agreed to evacuate Paco, the last suburb of Manila held by the Filipinos, on Oct. 25. This completes the American conquest of the city.

The last rebel was driven from Cavite yesterday. The Americans now hold Cavite and Manila, the rest of the island of Luzon being in the hands of the insurrectionist factions.

How little power Aguinaldo possesses is shown by his refusal to grant passes to visit the interior on the ground that the northern provinces are held by General Makabulos, who is in revolt against the Malolos government.

General Aguinaldo has shown good faith in securing Pio Pilar's consent to evacuate Paco, although the rumor is persistently circulated that the rebel leaders have promised their soldiers, who are growing restless, that an attack will be made on Manila before the end of the present month.

As a matter of fact, Pio Pilar, who is the chief of the anti-American party, has been reduced and is practically under arrest by Aguinaldo.

SAN JUAN NAVAL STATIONS.

Admiral Schley Has Been Placed in Command.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Admiral Schley has been, by orders from the navy department, placed in command of the naval station at San Juan, Porto Rico. So far the department has no knowledge of the value of the naval property contained in this station when it was evacuated by the Spanish officials.

Admiral Schley has requested that he be permitted to retain in service for a time two or three civilian employees who are acquainted with the station. This has been granted. It is the intention of the department to send another naval officer to relieve the admiral of the command very soon and to maintain a permanent station at this most important strategic point in the south.

Evacuation of the Trocha.

HAVANA, Oct. 20.—Senor Benitez, interpreter to the Spanish evacuation commission, yesterday afternoon delivered to the American commissioners two notes, one announcing that General Blanco had ordered the evacuation of the trocha from Jucaro to San Fernando, the troops to move to Cienfuegos prior to embarkation and the cavalry to go to Placetas to sell their mounts and then to proceed to Cienfuegos. The evacuation of the trocha is expected to be complete by the first week in November.

The Resolute in Port.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Resolute, Commander J. G. Eaton, arrived at quarantine yesterday afternoon and anchored to await the orders of the government. The Resolute left Havana Oct. 10, owing to the fact that two of her crew were sick, one of yellow fever. The following day, E. H. Pullen, junior grade, died at 8 o'clock in the evening, and the other patient, Hjerpot, a painter, was sent to the quarantine hospital.

Li Hung Chang and Empress Wed.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 20.—News-papers received here by the steamer Empress of Japan, which arrived yesterday morning from Hongkong and Yokohama, publish the amazing statement that Li Hung Chang and the dowager empress of China have been secretly married.

Pugilist Dupont Held For Murder.

OMAHA, Oct. 20.—Yesterday afternoon Andy Dupont, the Kansas City prizefighter, who administered the fatal beating to William Walker Monday night, was arrested at South Omaha. He is held for murder. Walker is still alive, but beyond hope of recovery.

Gold From Klondike.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.—The steamer Roanoke has arrived from St. Michael's with about 500 passengers and gold dust estimated at $2,000,000, and of this the Canadian Bank of Commerce has $600,000 and the Bank of British North America $550,000.

THE FASHODA AFFAIR

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's Plain Talk.

THERE ARE GREATER EVILS THAN WAR

British Honor Must Be Defended. Effect of the Speech—France Straining Every Nerve to Get Ready For War.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking at North Shields last evening, announced that the government had opened negotiations with the powers with a view of securing to the subjects of the various powers the "right of developing the respective spheres in which each country is especially interested."

Regarding the Fashoda question, he said he wished cordially to acknowledge the desire evidenced in the speeches of Lord Salisbury and Mr. Herbert Asquith to help the government in the matter, "a matter which might develop to the utmost gravity."

"It is impossible," he continued, "for France to maintain that she has political rights at Fashoda. She has naturally and properly asked for time to receive Major Marchand's report; but, until the contrary is proved, I decline to believe that France will refuse to withdraw. If she refused, the matter would assume an aspect as grave as is possible between two great nations."

"The government is animated by the friendliest spirit toward France and does not wish to inflict humiliation. What we desire is fair treatment. Africa is big enough for us both—for France in the west and ourselves in the east. Surely we ought to be able to agree to respect one another's rights and claims."

"I hope, trust and believe the question is capable of a friendly solution, but this country has put her foot down. If, unhappily, another view should be taken by France, the queen's ministers know what their duty demands."

"It would be a great calamity if, after peace for upward of 80 years, our friendly relations should be disturbed and we should be launched in a great war, but there are greater evils than war, and we shall not shrink from anything that is coming to us, knowing that we are supported by a united people."

This speech has deeply impressed England, and the utmost concern is felt as to how France will receive it. The idea has been prevalent that the French have not realized how seriously England felt on the Fashoda question, which has been coupled with a desire that France would not force England to an armed support of Lord Salisbury's stand.

The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail says:

"In Toulon and Brest every nerve is strained to get ready for war, which may break out on short notice. The Paris press is growing more and more determined to back up extreme measures, even a resort to arms. The French have been excessively piqued by the threatening tone of the English papers, which is a more likely cause belli than the mere question of Fashoda."

"Consequently the outlook here is grave. There are reports of troops hurrying from Paris to Brest and Toulon. The artillery in the batteries and at the various ports have been confidentially instructed for any emergency, and the cannon at all the forts and batteries are kept ready for action at any moment. Today there was a prolonged war council at Brest of the chiefs of the various services, and M. Lockroy is hastily returning to Toulon on account of the gravity of the situation."

The Paris correspondent of The Standard says:

"If England keeps on saying that Marchand must go, France will reply that Marchand will stay, and if he be removed forcibly there can be little doubt as to what the consequences will be."

On the other hand, the Paris correspondent of The Daily Graphic says:

"I have good reason for stating that Count Muraviev, Russian foreign minister, has discouraged French resistance in the matter of Fashoda."

Most of the papers, however, refuse to accept the explanation that French activity is merely in pursuance of M. Lockroy's scheme. Several exhort the government to answer the preparations of France by mobilizing the British fleet.

Some of the more conservative organs, notably The Times, practically ignore the French maneuver and decline to perceive any war cloud.

The Daily Chronicle remarks:

"Sir Michael Hicks-Beach has been at it again. He is a dangerous man. He has honesty without tact."

Other papers hint that the plain speaking of the chancellor at a time when a crisis is approaching is an indiscretion.

French Naval Activity.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—The Temps, commenting upon the sensational stories of naval mobilization, says: "While the political situation necessarily induces unusual vigilance and activity it must not be forgotten that the present naval movements are principally an indication of the reforms planned by M. Lockroy when he was appointed minister of marine and which he desires to have completed prior to Jan. 1 next—reforms whereby the squadrons and fleets will always be ready and clear for action and fully equipped within a few days." After enumerating the proposed future strength of the various squadrons intended for constant defense the Temps concludes as follows: "Ashore our military works are quite ready, and certainly the best disposition is being made of the means at the disposal of the navy—even if before the date mentioned the hoped for solution, agreeable to both countries, should be found for the Fashoda question."

GOOSE BONE WHITE IN FRONT.

Corn Husks, Nuts and Fur Also Tell That There Is a Hard Winter Coming.

According to Ezekiel Bonzy, who is held to be the most accurate reader of a goose's breast bone in Maine, the coming winter is going to be a snorter, says the New York Sun. It is to start with a snowstorm which will come in November, and the snow will stay on the ground for the purpose of catching and holding other snowstorms that will arrive frequently and with great vigor until about the middle of March. Mixed in with the output of snow will be hail, wind and consecutive periods of zero weather, which will cause a great demand for overcoats and double mittens.

For the first time in eight years the goose bone is white at the front end, indicating an early snowfall. As the bone of 1898-99 is very wide and mostly white over all its surface, Mr. Bonzy infers there will be deep snow and good sledding for fully five months. His conclusions are well reinforced by researches among corn husks, beechnut burrs, and the fur of animals, all of which are uncommonly thick and well laid on.

Acting upon Mr. Bonzy's advice, the lumbermen are planning to go into the woods early, and operators are getting options upon large areas of stumpage. For three years past Mr. Bonzy has predicted that there would be no snow until after the new year and has hit it right every time. Therefore much confidence is placed in his prognostications this year.

ELKS' "TEETH" LITTLE WORN.

The Use of the Bones Is Confined to Indians and Members of a Fraternity.

The recent advertisement in a jeweler's weekly of "500 elk teeth for sale," with an invitation to write for prices and samples, led to an inquiry. Though the notice appears among others which advertise precious stones, and might lead one to believe that the masticators could be turned to purposes of personal embellishment, it is nevertheless true that they are worn to a very limited degree, says the New York Times.

Taxidermists say that the "teeth" are not teeth at all, in the common sense. They lie clear and clean of any tooth in the elk's head. They are in either side of the upper jaw, two inches from the front of the mouth. Immediately beneath the "tooth" is a toothless hollow. The part of the "tooth" below the gum bulges blunt and round, and is similar in shape to some of the wooden golf sticks.

The taxidermists say they do not know what use these organs are to their original possessors. In trade they bring a fair price, because they are used as the insignia of the Order of Elks. The American Indians use the "teeth" for ornament, often in the form of wearing apparel or necklaces.

THE PIRATE'S JOY.

It Was Very Largely Increased by the Capture of Victims from Chicago.

The fierce eyes of the pirate chief glinted from 'neath bushy brows as he gazed over his captives, a yacht load of Chicago millionaires he had captured while cruising about in the Caribbean sea, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Ah! gentlemen, from Chicago, I feel," he shouted, "I am overjoyed to see you!"

"Why?" asked one of the plutocrats, "why does the fact that our homes are in Chicago cause you so much enjoyment?"

"Well, I'll tell you," answered the chieftain. "Our life, though varied, is somewhat monotonous. For some time our only pleasure has been in forcing all of our captives to walk the plank and they, being novices at this particular business, have invariably disappointed us by slipping off the greased board before reaching its end, and thus spoiling the finale of the act. You gentlemen who all your life have been sprinting around on slaughterhouse floors will doubtless perform this little feat with great ease and thus add a little enjoyment to our lives, which otherwise are nearly devoid of interesting incidents."

SHOULD ACT ALIKE.

Here's an Odd and Interesting Theory About Resemblances Between Persons.

"It's a curious thing about resemblances," said a woman. "How we instinctively look for the same characteristic in the two persons! We forget that a common look does not by any means insure a common nature. Still more strange is the involuntary expectation that one who bears a close resemblance to another should conduct himself as that other, and this, too, when the incentives and cause for conduct are entirely different. When I was a young girl, just before my marriage, I went to visit relatives living in a distant part of the country and there I met a man who, in many striking respects, looked like my fiancé. Of course, we became but the nearest acquaintances, but during all that time I never met him without an instinctive feeling of surprise that he didn't greet me as his double at home was wont to do. I never could quite get over the sensation that there was something wrong about it, though had he carried out these instinctive expectations of mine I should probably have felt that there was something much more wrong about it."

Long-Touched Silver Bars.

In the Bank of England there are silver bars that have lain there untouched for 200 years.

THE CAPITOL ANNEX

"A LODGE IN THE WILDERNESS" LIEUT.-GOV. WOODRUFF'S SCHEME

$1,500,000 in Waste Forest Lands, Most of Which Would Have Been Given to the State.

Throughout Northern New York the one great topic of political discussion is the "Adirondack Steal." From the Vermont line on the east to the west line of Hamilton county, farmers, guides, woodmen and laborers are talking of the Durant Capitol annex to which "Tim" Woodruff, the Lieut.-Governor and head of the Forest Purchasing Committee, has speeded summer and winter by special train or special car to rest with a chosen few of State officials from their arduous labors. The "Capitol annex" was formerly known as the summer home of W. W. Durant, a wealthy lumberman, who lumbered land for profit and never let an acre of valuable timber land escape the axe or lapse to the State for want of tax payments. Durant was the most vociferous critic of the Webb land sale job when it was foisted upon the State through legislative aid. That scheme appeared to kill the North wood land schemes for awhile, as it was not clear as to how the purchase of land could be worked through the Land Board or a second legislative bill. In 1897 Durant invited Lieut.-Gov. Woodruff and a few friends to visit his camp in the woods. The party arrived at the nearest point by special train. Following his visit nearly 25,000 acres of land was purchased of Durant, and his camp became the Mecca of the State administration at Albany and the daily press monthly mentioned the fact that the Lieut.-Governor, with others, had started for the "Capitol annex" in the Adirondacks. Nearly all of Durant's land sold the State was of no use for lumber purposes, while three miles of lake front on Raquette lake was included in the purchase such front afforded no advantage over other lake front lands in the vicinity where land has been purchased at less than one-half the price paid Durant. Virgin forest at any point removed from the profit of lumbering is not worth the cost of tax payments and much of Durant's lands purchased through the favor of Lieut.-Gov. Woodruff was without a purchaser except the State took it, and most of it would have soon become State lands through the Comptroller's sale had not the "Capitol annex" been set up by the scheming Durant and Gov. "Tim" taken into camp.

Durant got $167,104 for his land, an average of $7 per acre. In an adjoining township to that in which the Durant land lay 42,000 acres were purchased by Gov. "Tim" at about $3 per acre, most of which was better timbered than the Durant tract but the keen appreciation of the value of the land was not promoted by the festivities of the "Capitol annex" in the adjoining township. Gov. "Tim" has interviewed himself several times in explanation of his connection with the Adirondack land jobbery. He talks as if all wood lands were equally valuable, if equally timbered. Holding this opinion he had paid State funds for lands apart from any water route or means of profitable transportation at double the price given for lands equally well timbered and marketable for commercial purposes. The schemers of the North Woods with the aid of Gov. "Tim" have unloaded on the State hundreds of thousands of acres of lands which would have in the course of a few years become State lands by reason of unpaid taxes, as the lands were of no value for lumber or pulp purposes. There has been "planted" in the swamp and mountains of the northern counties $1,500,000 of State funds owing to the gullibility of Gov. "Tim." The woodsmen of the Adirondacks say he is the "dead easiest" State official ever sent in that section and had a committee of experienced men familiar with land values in the North Woods been in charge of the land purchases made by Gov. "Tim" the past two years, the land which has cost $4 to $10 per acre could have been purchased at an average of $1.50 per acre.

Candid men of all parties in the Adirondack section say that the Canal steal is not the great scandal of Republican administration, as the Forest Preserve purchases of Gov. "Tim" for downright jobbery and waste of public funds is without a parallel.

Increased Revenue and Higher Taxes.

*****
 In 1894 the State treasury received $3,485,595.07 from indirect taxes collected from corporations, inheritances and excise. In 1897, the receipts from the same source was $8,030,228.66. The tax-rate in 1894 was 2.18 in 1897 the rate was 2.67, besides a State debt of $9,400,000, created.

Force Bill Not Endorsed.

One thing was conspicuous in the platform adopted by the Republicans at Saratoga by its absence. That was an endorsement of the Platt-Black Force bill. But the issue can not be kept out of the campaign by simply ignoring it. This is another of the issues which will not down. This is another act of the Platt-Black administration which can not be repudiated. McCullagh's club is a companion piece for Platt's collar. Election deputies to terrorize voters in the name of "pure elections" will make plenty of votes for the party at which this old law was aimed.—Buffalo Evening Times.

It is a Ted and Tim ticket sure enough.

SPANISH POST OFFICES.

Lack of System Makes It Difficult to Find Letters Properly Filed.

A foreigner in Spain sees many irregularities, especially in the post offices. At Potes, a village of 1,200 inhabitants, in northern Spain, the postmaster was an old man, who was usually found asleep, and resented being stirred up to deliver a letter. In the larger post offices the height of confusion is reached, because letters are put into pigeon-holes, alphabetically arranged, according to the fancy of the postmaster. "Mr. John Smith," says Dr. Gadov, in his "Northern Spain," "will, on inquiry, probably be told there is nothing for him, because the letter is safely lodged under J. the postmaster having mistaken Smith for an additional surname; but 'John Smith, Esq.' will as likely be relegated to E, and, unless the postmaster is amicably inclined, your letter has a good chance of remaining there until the quarterly or annual clearance, when it may be returned through the dead-letter office. I say 'may,' because such letters are considered troublesome, and have a knack of disappearing." Dr. Gadov, having obtained an introduction to the postmaster of Potes and exchanged compliments with him, was invited to look through his shelves and take his choice. He came across a letter addressed to a gentleman in Cabezon, a town at some distance from Potes. On asking why it had not been sent on, he received this startling answer: "That man is a foreigner—is he not? Well, numbers of strangers come to Potes, and he is as likely to turn up here as at Cabezon!" At San Sebastian, Dr. Gadov called at the post office twice for a registered letter containing a remittance from his banker, and was assured that nothing had arrived. On procuring a note from the English consul the letter was forthcoming, with the excuse that the post had just come in. He pointed out that the local postmark was five days old.

WAGNER IN HIS GAY MOODS.

The Great German Composer Was Fond of Playing Dangerous and Absurd Pranks.

"When not deep in meditation, or roused to anger by stupidity or impertinence, Wagner may well be said to have been boisterously gay," writes Houston Stewart Chamberlain, of "The Personal Side of Richard Wagner," in Ladies Home Journal. "This was, so to say, his normal state when in society, which accounts for his being so much beloved by children and by animals; hence, also, he never could endure the society of pedants and seekers for notoriety. The men he preferred were those full of fun and repartee; the ready wit of a peasant entertained him more than the learned sayings of a savant. He walked very fast, scrambled up mountains like a chamois, and was particularly fond of long excursions on foot. Being very small in stature, and wiry, he preserved his extraordinary agility up to the very end. As a youth he was renowned for gymnastic feats, and at 60 years of age he used still to climb tall poplar trees and to frighten his family by all sorts of daring antics. Even within a year of his death he would occasionally, when in high glee, astound his sedate German friends by suddenly standing on his head or by playing leap-frog over the armchairs of his drawing-room."

APPENDICITIS.

The Dangerous Affection Cannot Be Cured Without an Operation.

That there is really no medical cure for appendicitis, even though some cases recover without operation, says the Medical News, is the opinion of many eminent physicians, and according to experience, though it is a surgical disease, operation may not be necessary in every case, from the fact that the ailment is a stoppage of the drainage from the appendix to the colon, and preliminary treatment is often worse than useless. Thus the opium treatment, though relieving pain and discomfort, entirely masks the symptoms at a most important time, for it is in the first 24 hours from the beginning of the attack that physicians can decide not only as to the diagnosis, but as to the probable course and result of the case. It is found, for instance, that if there is no increase in urgency in five or six hours the patient is not in immediate danger when kept at perfect rest in bed, and if in 12 hours there is still no increase in the severity of the symptoms the patient should begin to improve. On the other hand, if the urgency of the case has steadily increased in 12 hours from the time when the diagnosis was made an operation will probably be called for. After two attacks a patient is sure to have a third.

Antique Furniture in Havana.
 Collectors of antique furniture have struck a bonanza in Havana. In preparing to return to Spain army officers are placing on the market pieces of fine workmanship and ancient pattern, which are being eagerly snapped up by dealers. A correspondent cites a handsome old walnut wardrobe with three full-length bevel mirrors, valued at $150, which sold for less than $15, and that is simply one of many examples.

Frog Beats Like a Lamb.
 A species of frog which dwells on the Western Tiers, Tasmania, has a voice which resembles the bleating of a lamb. In the olden days a shepherd hearing the sound thought he had discovered a contingent of lost ewes and lambs and followed the sound for some days, returning in rags and half starved.

TOMPKINS' Big Store, No. 35 North Street.

CONTINUING THAT EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF SILKS AND DRESS GOODS. This is the second week for the greatest sale of dress materials we have ever known. About twice each year we make an extraordinary effort to impress upon the public the important position that this house occupies as headquarters for Silks and Dress Goods. The past week and the one just coming are, therefore, the crests of the present season. In this class of merchandise our stocks are much larger than we have had the pleasure of showing you in any previous season. We can only mention in this advertisement a few items from this stock, and we want to impress upon you that now is pre-eminently the bargain opportunity of the fall to buy dress goods and silks at prices far lower than the ordinary—for this is truly a great bargain event.

Black Dress Goods—The Staples.

These are the every day kinds we speak of now. The specialties and novelties deserve a story to themselves, and we will make it another story. But these handsome, reliable, inexpensive Black Fabrics have their own immense importance. In these goods this store is especially strong, and in quantity, selection, quality for price we LEAD. As easy thing to test, if test is necessary. Here is something to judge by.

Trimmed Millinery.

THE "WHY" OF OUR MILLINERY BUSINESS.

Consistency and common sense both insist that a self interested invitation should be backed by a good argument. We ask ladies to buy their hats here. Ladies who have not been here and who ask "why?" This is why—Because we offer you MORE FOR LESS—a common place claim, but the Tompkins' statements may be taken as literally as anything. We do not use half measure in anything. We do the Millinery Business, like all our other branches, WITH ALL OUR MIGHT AND MAIN and the same power and command that place us at the head in other lines places us at the head in the millinery line. Isn't that a fair argument? If you desire demonstrations, find it in these prices.

Supervisor—GEORGE W. GALLOWAY.

Alderman—FRANCIS M. BARNES.

Supervisor—JOHN O. AUSTIN.

Alderman—JAMES S. CAMPBELL.

Roosevelt, in his speech in Brooklyn, Wednesday night, defended the Raines law and even went to the lengths of praising it. Nothing with the Republican label is now too rank for Teddy.

Friday and Saturday are the last days of registration in this city. A personal visit to the polling places is necessary unless a citizen is willing to deprive himself of his vote, and we are confident no Democrat will disfranchise himself, this year. Do not delay until the last day, but see to it that your name is put on the list Friday.

The news that comes to us from the rural towns of this county is full of encouragement to Democrats. The excellent State, Congressional, Senatorial, Assembly and county nominations made have put heart and zeal into the rank and file of the party, and everywhere earnest work is being done for the Democratic cause which will have good results on election day.

The favor with which the Democratic city ticket is received is a most hopeful sign. Democrats are so well pleased with the excellent nominations that they will give all the candidates a most enthusiastic support, and they will also receive the votes of many independent Republicans who not satisfied with the record which their party made while in control of city affairs and who do not like the way in which the bosses have manipulated local politics.

FOR ALDERMEN.

The Democrats of this city are peculiarly fortunate in the nominations they have made for Aldermen. Their candidates in the different wards are representative citizens, into whose keeping the interests of the city may safely be committed. They know the city's needs, have no selfish interests or ambitions to serve and, if elected, their one object will be to give the city the best, most economical and most efficient government possible. They will be against extravagant expenditures of any and every kind and will faithfully and earnestly strive to continue the policy of lower taxes inaugurated by the Democrats who are now members of the Common Council.

Alexander S. Finn, the candidate in the First Ward, has been a resident of this city for many years, and has so lived as to win the esteem of all. He is a skilled mechanic, a manly type of the intelligent workman, who make up no large with them, he will worthily represent them and will prove one of the best Aldermen the ward has ever had in the Common Council.

Lausung J. Cole, the Second Ward candidate, is very highly spoken of by all who know him. He is a prosperous business man, active, intelligent and progressive, and possesses all the qualities and qualifications needed in an Alderman for this large ward. Mr. Cole's personal popularity will insure him a large vote, and if the voters of the ward are alive to their interests party lines will be forgotten in the heartiness of the support accorded Mr. Cole.

In the Third Ward Dr. F. M. Barnes meets every possible requirement in an aldermanic candidate. While Middletown was a village he served as a member of the Board of Trustees, and proved himself a faithful and efficient representative of the people's interests. He did not seek the nomination but, if elected, will devote whatever time and attention may be necessary to the discharge of his official duties.

The people of the Fourth Ward are to be congratulated on having an opportunity to vote for such a candidate as James E. Campbell. He is a successful merchant with large property interests in the ward,—just the type of man needed in the Common Council. He is a man of sound judgment and wide experience, whose vote will always be cast on the right side of all public questions. His election will insure the ward a first class Alderman.

BEHEADING CHINESE REBELS.

The Occasion Made One of Festivity and Wound Up With a Banquet.

YANCOVER, B. C., Oct. 20.—Mail advices from China say that eight subordinate leaders of the Kwangsi rebellion have been beheaded at Wu Chow. The heads were carried in baskets through the principal streets as a warning spectacle. One thousand people witnessed the decapitation. The mandarins and headsmen rigged a scaffold to which were attached the heads of rebels and children danced around it. The Governor had advised the mandarins to make the beheading as festive as possible so as to insure a disgust for rebels in the hearts of the people. A banquet was afterwards spread.

SICK SOLDIERS AT MANILA.

Many Cases of Dysentery Among Troops in the Philippines.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 20.—The steamer Empress, of Japan, just arrived from Hong Kong, brings word that the hospital ship Rio De Janeiro left Manila, Sept. 16th, for San Francisco, with 450 men afflicted with dysentery on board. Two died on the way from Manila to Hong Kong. Fourteen hundred of the troops at Manila are down with dysentery. It is said more regulars are affected than volunteers.

KILLED BY A CHINESE MOB.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—At the Cabinet meeting, to-day, Minister of Foreign Affairs Delcasse read a dispatch from M. Gerard, the French Minister of Peking, announcing that a French missionary and several Chinese Catholics had been massacred or buried to death in the chapel at Paklung, by a riotous mob. M. Gerard immediately demanded reparation from the Chinese government, including compensation.

M. Gerard has been instructed to inform the Chinese foreign office that the French government will take action if China does not adopt measures absolutely guaranteeing the lives of missionaries.

BETTER CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The War Department, to-day, posted a bulletin saying that Gen. Otis has cabled that the situation in Luzon is somewhat improved. The influence of Filipinos of education and property not desiring an independent government, but hostile to Spain, is gaining precedence in revolutionary councils.

During the month there have been there have been eight deaths from small-pox, eight from typhoid fever, five from malarial and internal complaints, and three by accidents.

WIFE MURDER AND SUICIDE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—John Reinhardt, fifty-five years old, of Paterson, N. J., killed his wife, to-day, because she disagreed with him as to the advisability of his going into the saloon business and then shot himself. There is little chance of his recovery.

TEXAS GOING TO PHILADELPHIA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The battleship Texas passed out by Sandy Hook, this morning, for Philadelphia. She is to take part in the peace jubilee there, and then go into dry dock at League Island Navy Yard, to prepare for her voyage to Manila.

BOSTON'S INCREASED REGISTRATION.

Boston, Oct. 20.—At the close of the registration here, last night, there was a total of 97,247 names on the voting list as against 94,943 at the State election, last year.

AFTER MANY BALLOTS.

Boston, Oct. 20.—Henry F. Nappen, of South Boston, was nominated for Congress by the Democrats in the Eighteenth District, this morning, after a deadlock

POULTRY & BEES

THE TRUE "EGG TYPE"

It is Quite as Pronounced in Hens as the "Dairy Form" is in Milk Cows.

Dairymen have long ago found out that they must breed to a certain form, in order to increase the certainty of securing productive dairy animals; but with the great bulk of those who keep fowls for shape "a hen is a hen," whatever her shape or her external characteristics. Poultry is unprofitable to many, and of only small profit to very many others, for the simple reason that from one-third to two-thirds of the flock consists of inferior layers. The good layers in the flock may be able to support the others and pay a small profit, or they may not be sufficient numbers to cause any profit at all to appear. Just as the dairyman weeds out the poor performers at the pail, so the poultryman must weed out the poor layers and give the good layers a chance to yield a favorable profit.

One method of weeding out the poor performers is by taking careful note of form and outward characteristics. A person with a little experience can soon learn to pick out the poorest layers in a flock. As there is a "dairy form" which nearly all the greatest of dairy cows possess, so there is an "egg type" which is, as a rule, possessed by hens that make the best record as layers. Just what the "egg type" is may be a matter of some dispute as to minor points, but good poultry opinion has agreed upon essential points—points which I have tried to reproduce in the accompanying outline of a prolific laying hen. Such a bird must have a long body, which should be deep in the posterior part. The tail should be carried well up, the neck should be medium long, the head not too large, and the eyes bright. I am of the opinion that good layers nearly always have large, or medium large, combs, and these are a bright red. A hen with a pale, shriveled comb is never a good layer. A prolific laying hen, moreover, almost always shows great activity—even in the case of the larger and more sluggish breeds. In the latter case the good layer will not bustle about like the Leghorn, but will be found, however, "keeping everlastingly at it," searching for bugs and worms or on free range, or for grain in the litter if confined, though much, of course, depends upon judicious feeding in either, or any case. Profitable fowls can as certainly be picked out by the eye as can profitable dairy cows; and while a hen that has the "egg type" and other external marks of being a profitable fowl may sometimes turn out to be a poor layer, as cows with fine dairy form sometimes prove disappointing at the pail and churn, yet these will be found the exceptions that prove the rule. And in this connection it may be stated that the easiest way to get a uniformity of "egg type" fowls is to breed thoroughbreds that for generations have been bred for prolific laying qualities. Some of our prolific laying breeds, as the Leghorns, the Plymouth Rocks and the Light Brahmas, are very uniformly of this type, and in selecting breeders year after year this form should constantly be kept in mind. Weed out the unproductive birds and give the others a chance to show the desirable profit.—N. Y. Tribune.

Green Food for Winter.

The value of green food for poultry during the winter months is recognized by all well-informed poultry keepers. How best to supply this is more of a question, particularly in the northern states. In Missouri and states south an almost or quite continuous source of green food for the chickens can be provided by sowing a small patch of wheat or rye near the poultry house. This should be sown early, and on rich, well-prepared soil so as to secure a good growth before freezing weather sets in and the fowls should be kept from it until other sources of supply are cut off by frost. Even in sections of severe winters a wheat patch for the chickens to work on in late fall and early spring will be a source of health and delight to the fowls, and profit to their owners.

Cuttings of the Combs

In cold climates, where the combs of the fowls are sometimes frosted in the winter season, it may be advisable to dub the cockerels when they are about three months old. This is done by using sharp shears or a razor. Cut off the combs and wattles, close to the heads and sprinkle powdered alum on the surfaces. It is apparently except when there is a liability of frosted combs, which are more painful than the dubbing.—American Gardening.

CONVALESCENT CHILDREN'S HOME

Annual Meeting of the Association—Officers Elected for Next Year—Report of President and Treasurer.

The annual meeting of the Middletown-Goshen Convalescent Children's Home was held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Tuesday afternoon, and officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows:

President—A. B. Hurdin, Middletown.
Vice President—A. G. Wheeler, Goshen.
Secretary—H. B. Woodward, Middletown.

Treasurer—R. H. Wood, Goshen.
It was decided to leave the selection of manager and assistant manager till the location of the home is decided upon, so as to have them as near the home as possible.

Clifford Owen, the retiring secretary, declined a re-election.

The treasurer's report for the season
was as follows:

Total receipts $538 62

Expenditures for board $470 00

Expenditures for food, medicine, etc.

Balance on hand, Oct. 18, carried forward to season of '99, $50 46

The report of the president, A. B. Hur-

den is given below:

The closing of the home, Sept. 8, 1898, marked the end of the third season of the work of furnishing fresh air and abundant and suitable food to the poor children of New York city, and thus putting a little sunshine of human kindness into their narrow lives, and, we hope, giving them a desire for better things through the above and through the religious services which were held at the home every Sunday except two.

It is generally conceded that the home was more advantageously located this year than heretofore.

The first lot of children arrived June

16th, each lot remaining two weeks.

The home was open twelve weeks, making six relays of fifteen children each,

except the last lot, when there were thirteen, making eighty-eight children cared for during the season.

The following information I obtained mostly from the children:

There were twenty-three Germans, twenty-one Americans, seventeen Italians, fourteen Irish, nine Jews, two Scotch, one Pole, one African.

The youngest child was three years old, the oldest fifteen. The average age was nearly eight.

Those who had been recently sick had the following diseases: Diphtheria, one;

heart disease, two; spinal disease, two;

appendicitis, two; headache, one; nervous disease, one; tuberculosis, one; fits and paralysis, one; St. Vitus dance, one;

lung trouble, one; malaria, one; disease unknown, two.

Many of the others were benefited in appearance and increased in weight.

Four were from hospitals. Most of them attended some Sunday School.

For amusement each lot of children were taken to Midway Park where the amusements were at their disposal, for which we thank the privilege holders,

also the Trolley Co. for free transportation to the park.

Mrs. Myers, assisted by the ladies of the Episcopal Church, entertained the children at her home.

Is it a cause for wonder that many wished to stay beyond their allotted time? Through the generosity of the churches as well as many individuals our finances have been kept in good condition, and a small balance remains for another year.

Clothing has been donated by the friends of the home in Goshen and Middletown, and furnished to the children

when needed.

Dr. Coleman, of Goshen, kindly gave his services to the home, this year, which

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP
Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co.
only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALI-FORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

THE MILK PRODUCERS.

Meeting of the Five States' Association
Central Union—Officers Elected—Executive Committee to Arrange Prices With City Dealers.

The election of officers at the convention of the central union of the Five States Milk Producers' Association in Binghamton, Tuesday afternoon, resulted in the re-election of last year's officers:

President—A. G. Loomis, of Deposit.

Vice-President—I. D. Straub, of York-

town.

Secretary—H. T. Coon, of Little York.

Treasurer—C. H. Manwarring, of Trestle.

The members of the executive committee were re-elected as follows: The president, secretary and J. C. Latimer, of Florence Center, Ira L. Snell, of Kenwood, and F. B. Alken, of Mecklenburg. On the finance committee are William Hymers, of DeLancy, J. W. Seeley, of Afton, and

O. J. Ward, of Candor.

After lengthy discussions the members of the executive committee were directed to go to New York and arrange the price of milk with the dealers in that city.

At a meeting held at 7:30 in the evening the committee on resolutions made its report and the following were adopted.

Resolved, That the present price of milk to the producer is ruinous to his business, resulting in deterioration of milk without any benefit to the consumer.

Resolved, That we demand the redress of the evils in the milk trade and that the price to consumer and producer be brought nearer together, so that the ex-trêmes at present existing (in some instances being one cent per quart to the producer and eight cents per quart to the consumer) be lessened.

Resolved, That as a milk producers' association, we seek the co-operation of buyers and consumers to so regulate the milk traffic as to secure justice to all and avert a contest which will be a loss to all.

Another resolution was adopted to the effect that T. E. Dawley, directors of farmers' institutes, place on a list of institute speakers a gentleman to talk in the interest of milk producers and milk production. Another resolution was passed recommending the erection of local creameries, to use the milk in one way or another, in the towns.
